

Making Cities Resilient 2030

Making Cities Resilient

Making Cities Resilient 2030 (MCR2030) aims to support cities in taking action to reduce disaster risks. Being part of this initiative allows local authorities to develop their capacities to plan, implement and monitor disaster risk reduction actions and to participate in a global city network.

Read more

Resilience: a vehicle for urban transformation in Europe

Resilience is not a linear process; it requires a collective effort that takes a long-term perspective. This unique moment today, calls us not just to rebuild, but to write the story of a new future. Global problems require global collaboration.

Read more

Chisinau takes steps to strengthen urban resilience

The deputy Mayor of Chisinau, Ms. Angela Cutasevici: "All stakeholders should contribute to the resilience of the city in order to be better prepared to respond to the challenges that Chisinau faces. Only together can we identify the best solutions".

Read more

Strengthening urban resilience in Central Asia

Resilient Central Asia

Capital cities of Central Asia commit to reducing risks and advancing a holistic and systemic approach to urban resilience. Due to their high vulnerability and exposure, increasing climate and disaster resilience is a priority for the Governments of Central Asia

Read more

Cities step up to resilience challenge as MCR2030 launched

By 2050 most of the world's population will be urban and cities will be the key setting for ensuring the inclusive, safe, resilient and sustainable spaces for citizens.

Read more

The city of Portici joins MCRC2030

The city of Portici, one of the most densely populated towns in the world situated below the volcano Vesuvius in Italy joined MCRC 2030 with an aim to increase local resilience.

Read more

MCR2030: Statement by Ms. Mami Mizutori, SRSG for DRR

Ms. Mami Mizutori, Special representative of the UN SG for DRR: "By 2050 two-thirds of the world's population will be urban. Getting cities right will be the key for ensuring socially, economically and environmentally sustainable development. The resilience of cities will be vital for accomplishing the Sustainable Development Goals and achieving other global frameworks".

Read more

Sendai Framework Monitor

Uzbekistan (2019)

Snapshots of indicators

2

A-2a – Number of deaths attributed to disasters

0

C-2 – Direct agricultural loss attributed to disasters (Currency: UZS)

0

D2/D3 – Number of destroyed or damaged educational and health facilities attributed to disasters

1/1

E-1 – National average score for the adoption and implementation of national DRR strategies in line with Sendai

100%

E-2 – Percentage of local governments that have adopted and implemented local DRR strategies in line with national strategies

UNDRR

UN Office for Disaster Risk Reduction

The UN Office for Disaster Risk Reduction (UNDRR) works towards the substantial reduction of disaster risk and losses to ensure a sustainable future.

UNDRR is the focal point of the United Nations system for disaster risk reduction and the custodian of the Sendai Framework, supporting countries and societies in its implementation, monitoring and review of progress.

For more information contact the UNDRR Office for Europe : undrr-europe@un.org

Visit us: <https://www.undrr.org/about-undrr-where-we-work/europe>

Follow us:

